Commitment and tournament fees

13U · Season 2026 / 2027

Season commitment and refunds

Joining the Breakers is a commitment for the season. When your daughter takes a roster spot, Coach Myers builds the team around her and commits to court time, coaching and tournament costs for the whole season.

- Your first payment holds her spot and is non-refundable.
- Each quarterly payment is non-refundable once that quarter has started.
- If your daughter needs to step away for a valid reason, like an injury or a family move, talk to Coach Myers. We will work it out fairly.

We keep dues low by keeping the club full. Committing for the season is how we do that.

Tournament fees

Separate from club dues and billed separately. The club pays one entry fee for the entire team, then divides it evenly across the roster whether or not every player attends. Travel and hotels are not included.

You will know your tournament costs the week of October 6th

Teams are set on October 5th and 6th. Once Coach Myers knows how many players are on each roster, he can work out each family's share. You will get a separate invoice for each tournament.

Player and parent commitment

13U · Please read before signing

Who we are

The Breakers are a small club, started by Scott Myers in 2012. We run teams at 11U, 12U, 13U and 14U. The club stays deliberately small, so every player gets real coaching, reaches her potential, and has a good time wherever we play.

Our goal

We are here to encourage your daughter to become a better volleyball player, build skills, team spirit, and confidence to carry her on and off the court.

We expect her to show up, work hard, be kind to her teammates, own her mistakes, and treat the other team members, officials and coaches with respect.

Practice

Showing up is what makes a player, and it is what makes a team. Tell Coach Myers about an absence as early as you can. If weather cancels a practice, you will be notified via the BAND app as soon as possible.

Communication

- BAND app. Day to day messages, reminders and schedule changes. Please turn notifications on.
- Email. Club updates, fees and forms.
- Text. Urgent things only. Coach Myers, 949-701-5484.

Tournaments

Events marked "Required" on the schedule are ones the team is entered in, and players are expected to attend. If she cannot make one, tell Coach Myers as soon as you know.

Tournament fees apply whether or not a player attends, because the club pays the entry fee in advance and divides it across the roster. Missing an event does not affect a player's place on the team.

If the club withdraws from an event, the fee is refunded or put toward the next one.

Families arrange and pay for their own travel, meals and hotels. Some tournaments require teams to stay at a designated hotel, and we pass on booking instructions when that applies.

Officiating

Every player officiates at tournaments. That can mean line judging, scoring or running the scoreboard. Players also shag balls during the other team's warm up unless a coach says otherwise. It is part of how we carry ourselves.

How we behave

We expect players and parents to represent the club well and to speak to people decently. Comments that run down teammates, coaches, opponents, officials or the club, online or in person, are dealt with directly.

Playing time

Club volleyball is developmental and competitive at the same time. Playing time comes down to effort and attitude, attendance, skill development, volleyball IQ and what the team needs.

Roles change through the season as players develop, and every player has an important role. Success is not only time on the court. It is growth, contribution and commitment to the team.

If something is not right

Tell us. We would rather hear about a problem than have it build.

After a tournament, please wait one day before contacting a coach about a concern. It gives everyone time to think and cool down.

I agree to photographs of my daughter being used on club channels.

Risk and release

Volleyball carries a risk of injury. That includes sprains, strains, breaks, collisions with other players or the floor, and injuries that may be serious. Practices take place at Stratford School and at the Laguna Niguel Family YMCA, and the same risks apply at every practice, tournament and club activity.

By signing below I confirm that I understand and accept those risks on behalf of my daughter. I release Scott Myers, the coaching staff and Laguna Niguel Breakers Volleyball Club from responsibility for injury or loss arising from the ordinary risks of the sport, to the fullest extent allowed by California law.

I also confirm that my daughter is in good health and fit to take part, that she is covered by medical insurance, and that I authorize the coaching staff to seek emergency medical care for her if I cannot be reached.

Forms to complete

Two things come back to Coach Myers before your daughter can play:

- This packet. Fill in the registration form including the medical section, tick the photo consent, and sign every signature line.
- The USA Volleyball medical release. This is USA Volleyball's own form, not ours, and it is required to play in SCSN events. Leave the notary box at the bottom blank unless Coach Myers asks for it.

Both forms are at breakersvolleyballclub.com if you need another copy.

Where this goes

Hand the completed forms to Coach Myers at practice, or upload them at breakersvolleyballclub.com. Questions? Text 949-701-5484 or email info@breakersvolleyballclub.com.
